

INTO THE BELLY OF ICE & SNOW

Rekindling the Fires of Mens' Purpose and Joy

You and members of your congregation are cordially invited to two extraordinary events the weekend of January 27-29, 2012. Sponsored by the Men's Poetry and Singing Group of the Twin Cities, these events present the wisdom of old teaching stories and legends, surrounded with poetry, drumming and music. These stories offer a deep insight and guidance for men (and the women who care for them) in their struggles with their male identify, soul's purpose, and joy in life.

January 27, 2010 An evening of Music, Poetry and Stories

The introductory event on Friday, January 27th will be an evening of music, poetry and stories with our participating teachers that will be open to both men and women. The evening will start at 7 PM at the Lake Harriet Spiritual Community, located at Lake Harriet Spiritual Community, 4401 Upton Ave S, Minneapolis, MN – (612) 922-4272 – MAP. The cost for this intro event is $15.

January 28-29, 2012– Winter Retreat for Men – Camp St. Croix

For thousands of years, during the short days and long nights of the boreal winter, men have left the comforts of the village to gather in woodland lodges and share their ancient stories, their poetry, laughter, music, ritual, deep feeling and the resonant silence of the whitened woods. Some wild old fire would kindle in the belly.

Into Minnesota's deepest winter week, with ritual, drums, poetry and savvy leadership, Guatemalan teacher, Miguel Rivera will bring his visceral and experienced dialogues and heart felt teachings. This retreat will offer direct responses to questions such as "How do men live with soul and purpose?" "What is a man's role in chaotic times such as these?" "What gifts do men bring back from the wild?" This weekend retreat (beginning 9:00 am Saturday through 3:00 pm on Sunday) will be a time for men to be heard, to seek inspiration, to reclaim and revivify the mythic ground they stand upon.
