

Advent Contemplative Practice for Parents – Sacred Reading

This Advent season we invite you to journey with others from around the Minnesota Conference UCC through an ancient spiritual practice of sacred reading.

Lectio Divina, Latin for “divine reading,” is an experiential way of reading that engages the mind, heart, and imagination. This practice encourages participants to listen beneath and through the text rather than reading for comprehension or information – wandering unhurriedly through the passage or story, noticing what captures one’s attention and touches one’s soul.

Each week of Advent will feature a poem/blessing by the writer and artist, Jan Richardson, and Christmas will offer reflections by the writer and UCC minister, David Butler.

We hope you can make space amid the chaos and clamor of your days to pause – if only for a few moments – to be still. To simply be. Perhaps you will hear the whisper of the voice deep within your soul calling you to reconnect with the Source of Hope, Peace, Joy, and Love entering our lives in the most unexpected and surprising ways.

The Practice

PREPARE

Remember that this practice, like all spiritual practices, is an opportunity to experience grace not judgement. This is not a project to “get right” or a task to “get done” but a gift of time and space for listening to one’s self and the whisper of the Spirit.

For this practice you will need to find a quiet place where you will be (mostly) undisturbed. You will also need to have this practice available on your phone, tablet, or computer, or have a printed copy handy. You may want to gather a few additional materials to help you fully engage the practice: a journal or paper, pens/pencils with which to write or draw, and a single candle or an Advent wreath with candles.

CENTER

Settle in and get comfortable in your quiet place. Light your single candle or Advent candles, if you have them. Spend a few moments looking into the flickering light. Be still and aware of the sacred breath within you. Take three deep, mindful breaths. Rest in the gift of this moment.

READ & REFLECT: LISTEN

Read the week’s text, preferably aloud. Listen for a word or phrase that draws your attention. When you have finished reading the text, pause for at least a minute of silence. As you rest in the silence, repeat that word or phrase over and over again to yourself. You may find it helpful to write or draw the word repeatedly in a journal.

READ & REFLECT: PONDER

After holding the moment of silence, prepare to read the text again. Before you begin reading, ask yourself the question, “How does this text intersect or connect to my life?” Read the text slowly, preferably aloud. After you finish reading, spend 2-3 minutes (or more) of silence reflecting on how this text may be speaking to your life in this moment. If it is helpful for you, spend this time writing or drawing in a journal.

READ & REFLECT: WONDER

As you prepare to read the text a final time, ask yourself the question, “What invitation is coming to me through these words?” Read the text slowly. After you finish reading, spend 3-4 minutes (or more) of silence listening to discover the Spirit’s invitation or encouragement for your life. You may choose to spend this time of reflection writing or drawing in a journal.

PRAY

As you finish your time of reflection and/or journaling, allow yourself to once again become still and aware of the sacred breath within you. Take three deep, mindful breaths, and pause to rest in this moment. During these final moments of silence, you may want to offer a brief prayer of thanksgiving for the gift of this time.

Week 4 - Love

Week 4 – Love

Blessing That Meets You in Love

It is true that every blessing begins
with love,
that whatever else
it might say,
love is always
precisely its point.

But it should be noted
that this blessing
has come today
especially to tell you
it is crazy about you.
That it has been
in love with you
forever.
That it has never
not wanted
to see your face,
to go through this world
in your company.

This blessing thought
it was high time
it told you so,
just to make sure
you know.

If it has been shy
in saying this,
it has not been
for any lack of
wanting to.
It's just that
this blessing
knows the risk
of offering itself
in a way that will so alter you—

not because it thinks
you could stand
some improving,
but because this is

simply where loving leads.

This blessing knows
how love undoes us,
unhinges us,
unhides us.

It knows how loving
can sometimes feel
like dying.

But today
this blessing
has come to tell you
the secret
that sends it
to your door:
that it gives itself
only to those
willing to come alive;
that it vows itself
only to those
ready to be born anew.

—Jan Richardson

<http://paintedprayerbook.com/2016/01/25/blessing-that-meets-you-in-love/>

Used by permission of the author, Jan Richardson (<https://www.janrichardson.com>)